

December 2013

Dear Friends,

Upcoming KPCK Dinners:
December 19th

December often becomes a time of reflection, as the days shorten and the New Year approaches. 2013 marks only our third year serving the Galesburg community, but the KPCK has accomplished an incredible amount. In 2013, we served a total of 24 community dinners, sometimes providing over 200 meals in one night. In May, we opened an office downtown, and this summer, a donation of land allowed us to grow a garden and harvest our own produce. The KPCK hosted its first ever lunch at Kiwanis Park, allowing us to reach a larger community. Laura Lytle taught cooking classes on affordable, versatile meals, and Peter Schwartzman offered lessons on growing one's own food.

The Knox County Health Department will be offering informational services about the Affordable Care Act and how to find a plan within the Illinois Marketplace.

Dec. 7 — 9:30 am to 12pm. FISH mobile food pantry, 1080 Harrison St.

Dec. 7 — 10 am to 2 pm. Sandburg Mall

Dec. 10 — 8:30 am to 3:30 pm. Knox County Health Department, 1361 W. Fremont St.

Dec. 14 — 9 am to 12pm. Galesburg Public Library, 40 E. Simmons St.

It's been a great year for the KPCK, but the most memorable moments have been the dinners themselves. Thank you to the volunteers for their dedication, the donors for their generosity, and a most sincere thank you to our diners for their wonderful presence.

Here's to a wonderful 2014!

Happy New Year, and
Happy Days,
Your friends at the KPCK
